

Names and pronouns for Visual Arts

It is time for me to start making your artwork public to the world. And this means that I could make some big mistakes with which name and/or pronoun you want to use. But you can help me get this right!

In the art room, you should call me:

Name:

Pronoun: he they she other:

In the hallways and on my artwork, you should use:

Same name as in the classroom, or:

Pronoun: he they she other:

When you post my artwork online, you should use:

Same name as in the classroom, or:

Pronoun: he they she other:

When you write or talk to my family about me, you should use:

Same name as in the classroom, or:

Pronoun: he they she other:

On my report cards, you should use:

Same name as in the classroom, or:

Pronoun: he they she other:

Do you want help from Guidance in updating which name and/or gender shows up in PowerSchool?

yes no

Diagnostic drawing

I would like you to spend the rest of the class making a diagnostic drawing. This drawing will help me get to know you a little better!

From this artwork, I will be able to get a sense of your...

...ability to come up with ideas

...technical drawing skills

...ability to use your time wisely

...ability to keep adding to your artwork to make it full and complete

To do this, I would like you to draw Someone Doing Something Somewhere!

- You are allowed to use your phone to look up images.
- It has to be school appropriate, because obviously.
- The “someone” does not have to be human.
- It can happen anywhere, real or not real.

This drawing will be returned to you on the last day of your art class! 😊

This will not be marked. It is not fair to mark things when you haven't been taught yet!

You have until the end of the class to draw! Enjoy!
